GHOSTBUSTER LAB

Word slips for the ghosts

Five words make the sentence. One set of five per squad, plus a spare set. Cut on the dashed lines, laminate or cover with clear tape, roll each slip tight, and bury one inside each baking-soda ghost. The tiny number in the corner tells you which set it belongs to, not the word order.

set 1 SEEN	set 1 IN	set 1 HALL	set 1 AT	set 1 2:15
set 2 SEEN	set 2 IN	set 2 HALL	set 2 AT	set 2 2:15
set 3 SEEN	set 3 IN	set 3 HALL	set 3 AT	set 3 2:15
set 4 SEEN	set 4 IN	set 4 HALL	set 4 AT	set 4 2:15
set 5 SEEN	set 5 IN	set 5 HALL	set 5 AT	set 5 2:15

Baking-soda ghosts (makes 25)

1. In a bowl, mix 2 boxes of baking soda with water, a tablespoon at a time, until it packs like damp sand (about 6 to 8 tablespoons).
2. Pack a golf-ball amount into your palm, push a rolled slip into the middle, and shape a 3-inch ghost with a rounded head. Press two googly eyes in.
3. Set each ghost in a muffin tin. Dry overnight, uncovered.
4. Transport in the muffin tins. They crumble if they roll around.

At the station

- Five ghosts in the bin, one per detective. Each detective gets a syringe of green vinegar (white vinegar + a few drops of green food coloring).
- Bust the ghost until it fizzes apart and the slip appears. Sleeves up.
- Squad lays out its five words: SEEN IN HALL AT 2:15. Write it in the case file.
- Between squads: scoop out the fizz, set five fresh ghosts. The residue is harmless.
