TOP SECRET · YOUR EYES ONLY

MRS. DRISCOLL'S DETECTIVE HQ

CLASSIFIED

DETECTIVE (yes, you):

You have been selected. This classroom is now Detective HQ. There is a MYSTERY to solve, and you are on the case.

Your questions, answered:

1. What is the mystery? CLASSIFIED.
2. Who is involved? CLASSIFIED.
3. What will you need? Sharp eyes. A good memory. A codename.

That is all we can put on paper. Paper gets read by the wrong people. Before your first assignment, you train. Three tests. Pencil only.

TEST 1 · CRACK IT. (A=1, B=2, C=3 … Z=26)

8–1–16–16–25 8–1–12–12–15–23–5–5–14

TEST 2 · LEAVE YOUR MARK.

Scribble the gray box black with your pencil. Rub your thumb in it. Press your thumb in the white box, flat, no wiggling. That is your fingerprint. No two detectives on Earth have the same one. Keep it; HQ may need it.

TEST 3 · BECOME SOMEONE ELSE.

Pick a codename. Write it on the Detective ID you were just handed, then fill in the rest. The color of your ID is your squad. Learn your squad number. Guard the ID.

Passed all three? Good. You're in. Until the briefing, say nothing.

BRIEFING Friday, October 30, 1:30 PM. Right here. Lights will be off. That's normal.

WEAR your costume and your ID. The best detectives work undercover.

TELL NOBODY. Especially not older siblings. They crack under pressure.
