Cut on the black border and tape to the front of the opaque jar. The countdown boxes are for the Chief: one big X each morning, in marker, where the class can see it. Then put the jar on a high shelf and say one sentence: "That's for Friday. Nobody touches it."

Lid seals and lid label

Cut out the three strips and tape them over the lid and down the sides so the jar visibly cannot be opened without tearing one. Put the small label on top of the lid. Packing tape over everything. The seals get "broken" when the jar is recovered at the finale.
